

The River Misbourne wends its way through quintessentially English countryside like an episode of Midsomer Murders.

Less than one hour from Heathrow and central London

Pick up a Midsomer on the Misbourne locations trail leaflet from any of the village museums, libraries or train stations or click on Midsomer on the Misbourne trail leaflet to download a copy.

Facebook <https://www.facebook.com/midsomermisbourne>

Twitter <https://twitter.com/MidsomerMisbour>

Instagram <https://www.instagram.com/midsomermisbourne/>

Visit Great Missenden, the home of the Roald Dahl Museum and Story Centre. It appeared as Shires Bank in 'Painted in Blood'. Visit Roald Dahl's grave in the steps of the BFG.

Continue your journey to the lovely village of Little Missenden which has featured in over 13 episodes of the show. See the splendidly restored wall paintings in St John the Baptist Church.

The next stop is Amersham, arguably one of the prettiest market towns in England. Combine your visit with a trip to the delightful Amersham Museum and a pit stop in one of the many award-winning eateries in the town.

Continue on to Chalfont St. Giles, a small village of pretty cottages, pubs, manor houses, a church, village green and a duck pond – quintessential Midsomer! Visit the Cottage where Milton wrote Paradise Lost.

Chalfont St. Peter is nestled on the southern slopes of the Chiltern Hills. There is plenty to see in the village. Further afield, the Chiltern Open Air Museum, itself a filming location for multiple Midsomer episodes, Call the Midwife, Horrible Histories and Downtown Abbey to name a few.

Explore by coach, car, bicycle or on foot. Find short and long route suggestions here.

